"On Wednesday, September 12, at 1:30 p. m. there will be a general assembly program for the entire school. All patrons and friends of the schools are cordially invited to attend this assembly program which will begin promptly at 1:30.

"The school lunch room will operate again this year similar to last years program. The lunch room will open for students on Tuesday, September 11th.

CUT OFF HEADS OF AMERICAN AIR MEN

Horrors inflicted upon American prisoners of war by the Japs were made public by the State Department in Washington Wednesday.

It was officially disclosed for the first time that the United States government spokesman at the State government had protested 240 times to the Japanese during the war. The Department said the government was afraid to say more lest the Japs kill more Americans held prisoners.

American air men came in for special vengeance by the yellow fiends who cut off their heads, buried them alive and buried them alive. The record of the atrocities have been handed over to General Douglas MacArthur, according to General Eikelberger.

Secretary of State Byrnes says the guilty will be punished.

So far none of the war criminals in Europe or Japan have been punished. The French and Norweigians have taken matters into their own hands and have begun trials of war guilty.

JERRY FRANK TOMEK

JERRY FRANK TOMEK IS REPORTED LOST AT SEA

Jerry Frank Tomek, Fireman Second Class, United States Navy, first reported missing in action by the Navy Deparment in 1943, and whose name has been carried on the missing list since, is now reported to have lost his life at sea.

Jerry Frank was serving aboard the Helena, cruiser of the U. S. Naval forces operating against Japan in the Pacific. The Cruiser was sunk on July 6, 1943.

Frank Tomek, Sr., father of Fireman 2-c, Jerry Frank Tomek, has just received a letter from Secretary of the Navy, James Forestall, advising that the Navy Department now considers his son lost.

Hopes had been held out that he might still be alive and held prisoner by the Japs. Secretary Forestall says in his letter that based upon information at hand and due to the time which has lapsed since the cruiser was sunk, that Jerry Frank must be presumed to have lost his life either in the battle or in the waters after his ship went down.

"He gave his life upholding the highest traditions of the Navy," wrote the Secretary.

Sgt. Charlie J. Tomek who served under General Courtney Hodges, First American Army, is now in Germany with the army of occupation, and is a brother of Jerry Frank. Units of the Century Division earned four presidential citations for their outstanding fights, and the Division as a whole received three commendations from higher commanders, the most important being from Gen. Hawkers Bustle in Bethlehem at Xmas

In Bethlehem, the place of the Nativity, Christmas is also observed on January 6, and in peaceful years, it has one of the most picturesque of all celebrations. Tourists do not see in Bethlehem the reverence they logically expect to see. On the contrary, the most sacred spot in the Christian world on one of the most sacred days in the Christian year becomes a virtual fair-ground.

Sellers of miscellany cry their wares at the very door of the Church of the Nativity, built on the sight of the Manger. Hucksters of mother-of-pearl crosses hawk their goods among the throng of visitors. One-eyed beggars tell their tales of woe to would-be contributors while Moslems persuade pilgrims to buy bright-colored and sticky sweets brought from Damascus. In the throngs are Jews, hundreds of them.

The legend is that the Moslems left this church standing when they destroyed or converted all others in the Holy Land because of the legend of the Three Kings which was worked over the main door. When these Arabs saw the Arab-looking king bringing presents to the Infant Jesus they refrained from laying sacrilegious hands on the edifice built where He was born.

Red and Green Decorations

The use of green at Christmas time is understandable when it is recalled that the idea of decking churches, houses, shops, etc., centers around the use of evergreen. This custom antedates the Christian era and apparently is a survival of the Roman Saturnalia when inhabitants of Rome ornamented their temples and dwellings with green boughs.

Red, which is regarded as the most cheerful of all colors, is said to react most quickly on the optic nerve. Decorations available at the winter solstice include holly, the berries of which are red.

Bear Gifts

Angels, sent by the Christ Child, bring presents to Hungarian children—that is, if they have been good. They believe the angels are listening long before Christmas. If the youngsters happen to find bits of tinsel on the floor they are certain of it, as this is angels' hair.

Apple Custom

Apples play a great role in Christmas customs. In parts of England they are pared and the peeling, taken off in one spiral, is thrown over the left shoulder. Tradition has it that the peeling will form the initial of the person whom the parer is destined to marry.

Clean Broom

A new broom sweeps clean—so does a clean broom. To keep a broom fresh and clean, douse it in medium warm suds, rinse well and hang up by the handle to dry thoroughly. Put a few drops of ammonia in the suds when washing a very dirty broom. When the broom is not in use, hang it so that the straw does not rest directly on the floor.

Yoemen Working Out, So Are Mosquitoes; DDT Is the Big Need

The Yoeman are working out but so are mosquitoes.

Coach Malaria had a choice squad of gallinippers out on the field last night. A few fans huddled together for matual protection, finally had to leave.

For a while it looked bad for some of the smaller Yoemen but so far as known none of them were carried off.

Down on the west end of the field Coach Jerry Sellers had a mighty good looking squad from Garland. They have been here since last Friday guests of the Yoemen and Coach Leo Jackson.

Coach Jackson had around 50 boys out last night. They are all sizes, weight and ages. On the whole they compare favorably with squads at this stage of the season. Slow starters sometimes are dangerous in October. Next week Coach Jackson takes his men to Marlin for their opening game. This week the Yoemen have been going through the training routine.

The field, especially the track is in a dilapidated state, but is being worked over. Grass had completely wiped out the fine cinder track as weeds pushed up through the tennis courts. That can be charged to the war, no labor. In a few days the field will be looking clean and in order.

The mosquito menace this year is the worst in history. If the coach had a line as big as some of the mosquitoes out there, the Yoemen could push Eva the elephant around. The crying need right now is not more football players, but some DDT.

Mother's Food

Recommended foods for the expectant mother include one quart of milk daily; two servings daily of green or yellow vegetables; two servings of fruits or raw vegetables every day; one egg daily; a large serving of lean meat every day; whole grain cereals and bread twice daily; more than usual amounts of water; and extra vitamin D secured either from sunlight or fish liver oil.

Miracle of Love in "Enchanted Cottage"

How love works a miracle in the lives of two lonely recluses forms the sympathetic theme of "The Enchanted Cottage," RKO Radio's starring vehicle for Dorothy McGuire, Robert Young and Herbert Marshall at the Cameron Theatre Thursady and Friday.

Miss McGuire portrays a girl in a small New England village whose exceptional plainess has made her something of an outcast, while Young is cast as Army flyer who was crippled and disfigured in a bomber crash, has settled in the village to get away from his family's mistaken sympathy.

The two are thrown together, fall in love because of the mutual affliction; and, counseled by a blind pianist who understands their problems, are married. And it is then that the miracle begins, for the two find that, in each other's eyes, they are attractive. The dramatic results of this discovery bring about the stirring climax of the offering.

Urge Precaution to Avoid Color Changes in Fabrics

Atmospheric gas fading is the term used to describe color changes that sometimes take place in acetate rayon fabrics.

Contrary to popular belief, fumes from a gas stove are not the only causes of atmospheric gas fading. Acid gases which cause fading are found in the atmosphere in the average home or store, in almost every location, summer or winter. The fading may even occur while the dress is hung safely away in a closet.

It has been found that paper, felt, wool and camphor all tend to accelerate gas fading. Therefore don't cover acetate rayon clothes with paper protectors or hang them in paper garment bags. Use cloth covers and garment bags instead. Never hang them next to wool dresses in the closet, and when you store acetate rayons, see that fumes from camphor, mothballs or flakes can't get to them.

To minimize gas fading in washable clothes containing acetate rayon, give them a final rinse in a solution of washing soda. Use a heaping teaspoonful of washing soda to a quart of lukewarm (wrist temperature) water. Use this rinse every time you wash an acetate rayon dress and before you store it.

Vaccines from Eggs

Half a million American hens are now laying eggs to be "half hatched" for conversion into vaccines to fight typhus and influenza. Owners of these specially selected birds get 15 cents a dozen more than for ordinary eggs because of numerous, exacting requirements. For instance, only white eggs are used, thus making detection of contaminating dirt on the shells easier. Also, to promote essential cleanliness and reduce nest breakage, eggs are collected oftener for shipment in trucks heated to maintain incubation temperature. At the laboratory, the embryo is "needled" with the virus inoculation through an aperture in the air-cell end of the egg. The break in the shell is sealed, and the egg returned to the incubator. The virus multiplies and the desired antigen, as well as the infectious material, is produced in the embryo. The infectious qualities are destroyed by chemical treatment before the vaccine is refined.

Extend Wear

Clothing specialists offer these suggestions to make a woolen coat or suit wear longer: Give it a brush off in the air. Brush woolen clothes often, in the direction of the grain of the cloth, inside and out, and in and around pockets and cuffs. Hang woolen clothes outdoors when weather permits. Hang clothes straight on hangers—zip plackets and button the top buttons. If you do not have a trouser hanger or wooden hanger with a cross bar on it, fold a piece of heavy cardboard over a wire hanger to hold the crease in trousers. Regular cleaning before clothes become badly soiled lengthens wear. Before pressing clothes at home, remove spots—a warm iron may "set" them so they will never come out. Steam press with a moderately hot iron, too hot an iron may scorch even through a pressing cloth.

Has Praise for Cotton Plan of Government; Saves $16.50 Per Bale

H. F. Smith had sold 22 bales of cotton Monday to the government at a very advantageous price and was praising the Department.

Mr. Smith sends his cotton to the gins and a sample of each bale goes to the government buyers. On this lot of 22 bales he had offered to sell at 22.55 to street buyers and they declined to take the cotton. The lowest price he received from the government was 22.55 and the highets 28.40. He said he had realized a profit of $16.50 a bale on the sale to the government.

Mr. Smith believes that this information should be of interest to the cotton farmers generally.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hicks, Mrs. Celvin Taylor and Harriett Weems visited relatives and friends in Cameron over the week end.

Mrs. John R. Baldwin and daughter, Madie Bassett, of Goose Creek, are spending a few days this week with her parents, Judge and Mrs. John Watson.

Jeb Wilkins loses the wanderlust

Jeb Wilkins was always a great one for traveling. Two weeks a year he used to cover more ground than a Pullman conductor. Used to come back from vacations tuckered out.

But the war has changed all that. Gasoline shortages – and saving space on trains for service men – has got Jeb spending his vacations home . . . and liking it!

"Never knew staying home could be such fun," says Jeb. "Outdoor barbecues . . . sitting around and chatting with the kids and family . . . basking in the sunshine with a glass of cold beer . . . that's living," Jeb says.

From where I sit, Jeb's discovered what millions of other Americans have learned through the war. Whether your choice is beer or buttermilk . . . horseshoes or checkers . . . a quiet book or a bit of friendly conversation . . . there's no place like home . . . where we grumble the most and get treated the best!

A Victory for Freedom

The Victory for Freedom has been won!

We join Texans and Americans everywhere, and all of our allies, in paying tribute to all who have achieved this triumph over despotism.

We especially acclaim the men and women of the United States of America. They have fought and toiled not for the spoils, nor for the mere sake of conquering, but for the privilege of returning to the pursuits of peace in a free land.

Freedom was their greatest weapon.

On the battlefields, on the seas, in the air; in their factories, on their farms, in their households . . . in every area of human endeavor which contributed to total victory . . . they demonstrated the superiority of a free people over enslaved peoples.

The initiative, wisdom, ingenuity and bravery of the American people, their genius for organization without regimentation, and the mighty vigor and strength of their industrial system arose from the exercise of freedom for more than a century and a half.

Freedom, then, laid the foundation for the outstanding role Americans played in winning the victory.

Texans have won an enviable place in this struggle for freedom. More than half a million Texans are in uniform and have participated in every phase of every battle in this global conflict. At home, Texans have taken a place of leadership in the vast program of industrial production. They have helped to arm, train and transport America's fighting men and to earn for this nation the designation as "The Arsenal of Democracy."

The immortal dead have solemnized this victory. Freedom was their goal and, in achieving it so nobly, they made us their humble beneficiaries.

So, as we celebrate this final victory, let us guard with all zeal and vigilance the freedom which has been so dearly won.

Let us, here in Texas, turn our thoughts now to the program of reconversion . . . let us plan greatly and act vigorously to consolidate our newly-gained position in America's industrial production, expanding that position in keeping with the boundless opportunities Texas affords her people.

The victory for freedom has been won on the battlefields . . . let us all join in making it secure at home . . . now and forever!

FOOTBALL PRACTICE BEGINS SEPTEMBER 1

Football practice will get under way Saturday, September 1st at Yoemen Field.

Coach Leo Jackson will begin, putting the Yoemen through their paces. For the next week footballs will be as thick in the air as bombs over Tokyo for Coach Jerry Sellers of Garland is bringing his team down for an encampment.

Garland has won their regional twice in succession. During the week scrimage between the teams will give fans a foretaste of the real thing later on in the season. Each night the teams will be under the lights.

Yoemen prospects appear weak. With only two lettermen returning Coach Jackson will have to build his team from new material but has more than 60 boys out there working.

The Yoemen team will be light but the new coach is coming up with a hard working bunch of boys and a few scat backs that may burn up a few gridirons before the shades are drawn in early December.

The Killeen Kangaroos are coming up with 13 lettermen, many of them hold overs from the great 1944 team that took them to the regional title. As defending champions the Kangaroos look good at this stage to repeat.

Worker's Account Number Important

In case a worker gives his account number to an employer and it proves to be incorrect he is jeoparadizing his old-age and survivors insurance protection under the Social Security law, according to David S. Pruitt, Manager of the Austin Social Security Board office. It is equally as dangerous for a worker to give his employer his name incorrectly, such as the wrong initial or first name. He may be depriving his widow and children of monthly benefits, in case of his death, if these errors are not corrected.

It will prove of much benefit to the employer in aiding him to keep his wage records if employees will cooperate with him in checking a second time on the name typed on the account card and the one on the payroll under which he is working. The employer must make reports based on the information given him by the worker. He consequently should be provided with correct and accurate data.

VETERANS County Service Officer's Column

For the benefit of all veterans and their dependents I wish to explain to them the duties of this office. This office was made possible through a law passed by the State Legislature, before this war. The last session of the Legislature amended the law to include veterans of World 2. This office serves any veteran or their dependent in filing any claim that they may have against the veterans administration for disablilities incurred in or out of the service. The only legal advice that we offer is within the above capacity. If you have any thing that concerns a civil suit, you should consult an attorney.

There is such a misunderstanding about the so called GI Bill of Rights, Public Law No. 346 that I want to attempt to explain one certain part of this law. "Title 111—Loans for the Purpose of Construction of Homes, Farms and Business Property.

This part of the GI Bill of Rights is misunderstood more than any part of the law. The average veteran thinks that all that he has to do is to make application for a loan of $4,000 and that is the end of it. The average person having a farm or property to sell thinks that all they have to do is to price this property at $4,000 and the Veterans Administration will approve said loan.

The proper procedure for a veteran desiring to get a loan through the GI Bill of Rights is as follows:

Find the property that you wish to buy, get the best price that can be had. Now find some one that will lend you the price of this property at 4 per cent for as many years that you think will take you to repay it, not to exceed twenty years.

The person furnishing the money will make application to the Veterans Administration who will forward the necessary forms to be executed in making this loan. The Veterans Administration will have an appraisor to appraise this property and if they find it is worth the price the veteran is going to pay for same; and if the veteran is of good moral standing and has the reputation of paying his debts, they will authorize the loan.

As can be construed from the above it is not as easy as the average person thinks to arrange for a loan under the GI Bill of Rights. The person selling the property is going to have to satisfy the Veterans Administration as well the veteran.

Any veteran wishing to get a loan of this character should contact the Veterans County Service Officer as I have the information where you may get the money for this loan if you qualifiy.

My office days are as follows: Cameron, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week. Rockdale, Thursday all day and Friday until noon each week.

In Cameron my office is in the Department of Public Welfare Office. Rockdale, in the American Legion Room, City Hall. Milano at Jim Baggett's Store; and in Thorndale at the American Legion Building.

JESS THOMPSON,
Veterans County Service Officer.

City Fat Saving Record Falls Under Town and Farm Push

Ever since our government asked town and farm women to save used fats, the record previously set by city women has taken a beating.

We must keep up the good work! This country is facing a shortage of 1 billion, 500 million pounds of fats in domestic supplies, alone. Tons of vital war and home-front supplies requiring fats are still needed. We in towns and rural districts are in a better position to save fats than most city folks, so the government is depending on us.

Save every drop, every scrap. Melt down solid fats. There's never too little to save! Butchers will give you up to 4¢ and 2 red points a pound. If you have any difficulty, call your Home Demonstration or County Agent.

Approved by WFA and OPA. Paid for by Industry.

Navy Men Would Have Kicked Japs Off the Battleship Missouri

There is growing discontent among navy men now in Japanese waters. The question is again raised, who surrendered?

High ranking naval officers do not like Jap War Lords still to be riding high with no demotion and no indication as yet they will be dealt with.

Admiral Halsey said if he had his way he would have kicked out the teeth of every Jap who put foot on the Missouri to sign the peace terms. Another said he would have kicked them but not in the teeth.

There has been no criticism of MacArthur.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Man" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 9.

The Golden Text is: "Hear the right, O Lord, attnd unto my cry, give ear unto my prayer, that goeth not out of feigned lips . . . As for me, I will behold thy face in righteousness: I shall be satisfied, when I awake, with thy likeness." (Psalms 17:1, 15.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ." (II Cor. 4:6.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: " 'This is life eternal,' says Jesus,—is, not shall be; and then he defines everlasting life as a present knowledge of his Father ad of himself,—the knowledge of Love, Truth and Life."

Cars Increase

At the end of World War I there were 26 million families in the country and approximately 7 million registered cars. In 1944 there were some 35 million families and 25.5 million registered cars although many were in storage or in the process of being retired.

Carrot Tops

Carrots with no tops stay crisp longer than those that nave the leaves left on. Reason is that the moisture of the carrot goes into the leaves and is there evaporated.

500 BALES COTTON IN FROM THE 1945 CROP

Up to noon Saturday 500 bales of 1945 cotton had reached the Cameron Compress, it was announced by P. W. Davis.

The movement has been retarded somewhat by the 4 inch rain here early this week but picking was resumed Friday and Saturday. By next week the movement should be on in full. The crop is thought to be comparable with the 1944 yield.

Cotton acreage over the nation is the lowest in many years and it was equally short in Milam county. The price is good but rain has damaged staple to some extent.

Pickers are plentful due to the gulf storm which put an end to harvesting in many of the South Texas counties. Bottom lands are not yielding their customary crops but generally upland black soils are showing good crops.

Hiding Place for Moths

The inside of a piano makes an ideal hiding place for moths, because it provides both food and protection. Once established these pests are difficult to clean out and may spread to other parts of the house. One way to oust them is to hang a muslin bag containing about four ounces of paradichlorobenzene, purchased from the drug store, inside the piano case. Keep all cracks and openings sealed for a week until the fumes have reached and killed all moth life. Sprays should not be used on piano felts unless the manufacturer guarantees against injury to wires or other parts.

The Business & Professional Women's Club met in regular session Tuesday evening at their club rooms, with president, Miss Mary Randolph, presiding. Miss Lilian Atkinson and Mrs. Bob Weise were hostesses, and served a lovely menu in the dining room. Next meeting will be Sept. 18th with Mrs. L. Bigbee and Mrs. Lowe, hostesses. Mrs. L. Van Perkins will have charge of the program.

Eliminate Vermin

The rat must have food and a place to hide. Remove these and you will eliminate the pest. Litter on or near the property provides harborage and should be eliminated. Open dumps and lumber piles are ideal places for breeding. Unfortunately it is a common practice to throw boxes and other junk off to the side and forget them. This combined with a nearby food source, perhaps a handy uncovered garbage can, provides the rat with an ideal environment and he moves in and raises a family. They then get the urge to move and decide to share your building with you.

Now for the Telephone Job at Home

The big war telephone job is nearly done. Now we can turn to the big telephone job here at home—the job of reconverting and constructing for peacetime telephone service.

We have a long way to go to catch up with the demand for telephone service. More than 240,000 people are waiting for us to furnish them telephones. Serving them will require millions of dollars' worth of new equipment. Poles must be set. Wires must be strung. Miles of cables must be laid. Switchboards and dial equipment must be made and installed.

Big jobs—complicated jobs—take time. But telephone factories are turning as rapidly as possible from war to peacetime production. Telephone people are eager for the job of putting new equipment to work. And soon, we hope, other skilled telephone men and women will be returning from the armed forces to help with the task.

Some of the 240,000 who are waiting for telephones will get service soon. For others, especially in cities where telephone facilities must be expanded, the wait may still be many months. As new equipment can be installed those who are waiting will be served in their proper order.

You may be sure that all our efforts are aimed at making the wait just as short as possible. We're working as hard to that end as we worked to supply the armed forces with vital communications equipment.

U. S. TROOPS ENTER JAP CAPITAL FRIDAY

Troops of the U. S. First Cavalry division waited on the outskirts of Tokyo today for the command which will send them parading into Tokyo Saturday (Friday, U. S. time) as the first alien warrors to occupy Nippon's capital.

General MacArthur, Allied supreme commander in Japan, designated the veteran dismounted cavalry division for the Tokyo honor yesterday, shortly after giving Japanese military leaders detail orders for speedy disarmament of all Nipponese forces.

Moving down from the Aleutians, the U. S. Ninth fleet commanded by Vice Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher waited to take over the Ominato naval base on Mutsu bay, on the north coast of the main Japanese island of Honshu. Negotiations with the Nipponese naval commander were set for Sunday.

Meanwhile, the American Sixth army occupation of Kyushu, southernment Japanese home island, proceeded smoothly with the help of elements of Adm. Raymond Spruance's Fifth fleet.

Units of the 32nd division of Gen. Walter C. Krueger's Sixth army, took over Kamikasa suicide plane airfields at Kanoya and an airdrome on Kagoshima bay at the southern end of Kyushu.

Premier Prince Higashi-Kuni told the Japanese diet meeting at Tokyo the empire was forced to its knees by the atomic bomb, heavy military losses and exhaustion at home. He pictured a prostrate nation, with 2,200,000 homes destroyed by aerial attacks.

But aside from rebuilding broken Japan, the Nipponese also must supply skilled and unskilled labor to the occupation forces under MacArthur's directions, to contribute to the comfort and housing of the increasing Allied power.

Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, U. S. Eighth army commander, estimated that the occupation of Japan's four home islands—Honshu, Hokkaido, Shokoku and Kyushu—will require between 300,000 and 400,00 troops. His own army will occupy Honshu north of Yokohama and Hokkaido to the north. He said that all Nippinese troops would be disarmed by October 10.

St. Francis Was First To Popularize Custom Of Christmas Carols

St. Francis of Assisi is accredited as having been one of the first to popularize the custom of singing carols at Christmasti e. He taught the faithful simple and tuneful melodies, and the saying goes that, overjoyed by the success attending his presentation of the first Christmas Crib in 1223, he burst into joyous vocal recitation of the gospel story.

Hymns in honor of the nativity were written as early as the 4th century, but these monotonous church chants neither properly nor musically ante-date our modern carols. Experimentation with modal and intervallic relationships during the 15th century, together with the folk songs and minstrelsy of the times, made definite contributions to the traditions and popularity of Christmas music.

Puritan England forbade public perf. rmance of carols; so for a while they traveled "underground" by word of mouth, and "broad sheets," printed annually, served to preserve the texts with a variance of accuracy.

When the restoration of English royalty voided the Roundhead Parliament's abolition of Christmas festivities, residents of colonial Boston placed lighted candles in their windows to welcome the Waits who, resuming the Old English tradition, went about the city singing carols on Christmas Eve:

"It came upon the midnight clear
That glorious song of old . . .
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing."

SATURDAY NIGHT DATE OF JAP PEACE TREATY

Formal signing of a treaty of peace between the Allied powers and Japan will take place Saturday night, our time, aboard the U. S. Battleship Missourri in Tokyo Bay.

It will be Sunday Japanese time for there are 13 hours difference in the times. No hour has been set for the signing of the treaty. It was said the Battleship Missouri may move close to the shore for the signing.

General Douglas MacArthur and Lt. General Jonathan Wainwright met early Friday in the Grand Hotel in Yokohoma. They clasped hands in silence, but apparently too overcome with emotion to speak. It was their first meeting since MacArthur took leave of his first in command on Corregidor.

MacArthur may move his headquarters to Tokyo as soon as the 8th Army lands under General Eikelberger. An area 200 miles square south of Tokyo has been occupied.

ADMIRAL NIMITZ IN PRAISE FIGHTING MEN

U. S. S. Missouri, Tokyo Bay, Sept. 2 (Sunday.)—The text of Admiral of the Fleet Nimitz' remarks at the Japan surrender ceremony:

On board all naval vessels at sea and in port, and at our many island bases in the Pacific, there is rejoicing and thanksgiving. The long and bitter struggle which Japan started so treacherously on the seventh of December, 1941, is at an end.

I take great pride in the American forces which have helped to win this victory. America can be proud of them. The officers and men of the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine who fought in the Pacific have written heroic new chapters in this nation's military history. I have infinite respect for their courage, resourcefulness and devotion to duty. We also acknowledge the great contribution to this victory made by our valiant allies. United we fought and united we prevail.

The port of Tokyo, which was first opened by Commodore Perry in 1853, is now crowded with United States men o' war. The process of bringing Japan into the family of civilized nations, which was interrupted when Japan launched her program of conquest, will soon begin again.

Today all freedom-loving peoples of the world rejoice in the victory and feel pride in the accomplishments of our combined forces. We also pay tribute to those who defended our freedom at the cost of their lives.

On Guam is a military cemetery in a green valley not far from my headquarters. The ordered rows of white crosses stand as reminders of the heavy cost we have paid for victory. On these crosses are the names of American soldiers, sailors and marines—Culpepper, Tomaino, Sweeney, Bromberg, Depew, Melloy, Ponziani—names that are a cross section of democracy. They fought together as brothers in arms; they died together, and now sleep side by side. To them we have a solemn obligation—the obligation to insure that their sacrifice will help to make this a better and safer world in which to live.

To achieve this it will be necessary for the United Nations to enforce rigidly the peace terms that will be imposed upon Japan. It will also be necessary to maintain our national strength at a level which will discourage future acts of aggression aimed at the destruction of our way of life.

Now we turn to the great tasks of reconstruction and restoration. I am confident that we will be able to apply the same skill, resourcefulness and keen thinking to these problems as were applied to the problems of winning the victory.

MacARTHUR ELOQUENT IN PROCLAIMING THE PEACE

U. S. S. MISSOURI, TOKYO BAY, Sunday, September 2.—Text of the concluding address of General MacArthur, supreme allied commander, following the formal Japanese surrender:

"My Fellow Countrymen: Today the guns are silent. A great tragedy has ended. A great victory has been won. The skies no longer rain death—the seas bear only commerce—men everywhere walk upright in the sunlight. The entire world is quietly at peace. The holy mission has been compeleted, and in reporting this to you, the people, I speak for the thousands of silent lips, forever stilled among the jungles and the beaches and in the deep waters of the Pacific which marked the way. I speak for the unnamed brave millions homeward bound to take up the challenge of that future which they did so much to salvage from the bring of disaster.

"As I look back on the long, tortuous trail from those grim days of Bataan and Corregidor, when an entire world lived in fear; when democracy was on the defensive everywhere, when modern civilization trembled in the balance, I thank a merciful God that He has given us the faith, the courage and the power from which to mould victory.

"We have known the bitterness of defeat and the exultation of triumph, and from both we have learned there can be no turning back. We must go forward to preserve in peace what we won in war.

"A new era is upon us. Even the lesson of victory itself brings with it profound concern, both for our future security and the survival of civilization. The destructiveness of the war potential, through progressive advances in scientific discovery, has in fact now reached a point which revises the traditional concept of war.

"Men since the beginning of time have sought peace. Various methods through the ages have attempted to devise an international process to prevent or settle disputes between nations. From the very start, workable methods were found insofar as individual citizens were concerned, but the mechanics of an instrumentality of large international scope have never been successful. Military alliances, balances of power, leagues of nations—all in turn failed, leaving the only path to be by way of the crucible of war. The utter destructiveness of war now blots out this alernative. We have had our last chance. If we do not now devise some greater and more equitable system, Armageddon will be at our door. The problem basically is theological and involves spiritual recrudescence and improvement of human character that will synchronize with our almost matchless advance in sicence, art, literature and all material and cultural developments of the past two thousand years. It must be of the spirit if we are to save the flesh.

"We stand in Tokyo today reminicent of our countryman, Commodore Perry, 92 years ago. His purpose was to bring to Japan an era of enlightenment and progress by lifting the veil of isolation to the friendship, trade and commerce of the world. But alas the knowledge thereby gained of western science was forged into an instrument of oppression and human enslavement. Freedom of expression, freedom of action, even freedom of thought were denied through suppression of liberal education, through appeal to superstition and through the application of force. We are committed by the Potsdam declaration of principles to see that the Japanese people are liberated from this condition of slavery. It is my purpose to implement this commitment just as rapidly as the armed forces are demobilized and other essential steps taken to neutralize the war potential. The energy of the Japanese race, if properly directed will enable expansion veritcally rather than horizontally. If the talents of the race are turned into constructive channels, the country can lift itself from its present deplorable state into a position of dignity.

"To the Pacific basin has come the vista of a new emancipated world. Today, freedom is on the offensive, democracy is on the march. Today, in Asia as well as in Europe, unshackled peoples are tasting the full sweetness of liberty, the relief from fear.

"In the Philippines, America has evolved a model for this new free world of Asia. In the Philippines, America has demonstrated that peoples of the east and peoples of the west may walk side by side in mutual respect and with mutual benefit. The history of our sovereignty there has now the full confidence of the east.

"And so, my fellow coutrymen, today I report to you that your sons and daughters, have served you well and faithfully with the calm, deliberate, determined fighting spirit of the American soldier and sailor based upon a tradition of historical trait, as against the fanaticism of an enemy supported only by mythological fiction, their spirtual strength and power has brought us through to victory. They are homeward bound—take care of them."

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

After the war

WHAT?

The time when so many of us have so long hoped for is at hand.

"After the war, what?"

To go back after 5 years and pick up the tasks we knew in peace is not as easy as said. Actually we may not ever go back. We go forward. Now that we have left off with war our energies must be directed to "business as usual."

The Herald has maintained as high standards as possible under war conditions. The job has been a hard one. As yet there is no improvement in labor conditions—skilled men and women who know the printing and publishing industry.

Materials are slowly coming back to meet demand.

In the next few years America will develop and grow as never before in history. That means Milam County and The Herald will grow.

We are grateful for your tolerance of a restricted newspaper during the war. In a little while we will be back with you with the best Herald ever published.
